Two out of the 3 data points fell below the criteria. The final exam is currently two parts: theory and application via the use of problems. The students struggled with the application portion. However, based on the feedback from the students, the struggle came from excessive scrolling required to complete the problems.	To alleviate the excessive scrolling required to view assignments, students will benefit from changing textbooks. The new textbook offers additional learning tools and has a more robust test bank with larger screen capabilities on exercises and problems. Students will be able to see all necessary information on one screen without having to reduce font size or scrolling to complete the assignments.	<table><caption>ACC 201-Final Exam</caption><tr><th></th><th>SP 20</th><th>FA1 21</th><th>FA2 21</th><th>SP2 22</th></tr><tr><td>Traditional</td><td>0.33</td><td></td><td></td><td></td></tr><tr><td>Online</td><td>0.85</td><td>0.66</td><td>0.86</td><td>0.529</td></tr><tr><td>Hybrid</td><td></td><td></td><td></td><td></td></tr></table>		SP 20	FA1 21	FA2 21	SP2 22	Traditional	0.33				Online	0.85	0.66	0.86	0.529	Hybrid

However, the statistics for the Spring shows students achieved the required results. Our Accounting Advisory board would like to see more data analytics and extensive use of Excel in the program. We are researching ways to implement their request into this course.	The current plan is to change the ACC 275 course to expand on the requests of our advisory board and to move the project now completed in ACC 201, 202 and 203 into the ACC 275 and to add data analytics content into the ACC 201, 202, and 203.
